

Equality Policy

St Giles Church of England Primary School Whole School Equalities Policy

January 2017

This policy subsumes and replaces all previous policies pertaining to equality: e.g. Racial Equality, Disability & Race Equality Schemes. It applies equally, where applicable, to adults¹ and children in school

Legal framework

1. St Giles Primary School recognises its duties under the Equality Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations in relation to the nine characteristics protected in law:
 1. Age
 2. Sex
 3. Race
 4. Marriage and Civil Partnerships
 5. Pregnancy and Maternity
 6. Gender reassignment
 7. Disability
 8. Sexual Orientation
 9. Religion or belief.

In addition we include economic disadvantage within this policy, recognising that this has one of the most significant impacts on the achievement of children and young people.

2. We welcome our duty under the Education and Inspections Act 2006 to promote community cohesion.
3. We recognise that these duties reflect international human rights standards as expressed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the UN Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities, and the Human Rights Act 1998.

Guiding principles

4. In fulfilling the legal obligations cited above, we are guided by nine principles:

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value.

We see all learners and potential learners, and their parents and carers, as of equal value:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status
- whatever their gender and gender identity
- whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background
- whatever their sexual identity

¹ Adults in any capacity working in school: paid staff, governors, volunteers and parents and carers.

- Whatever their economic or social background.

We therefore act to ensure that each and every member of the school community:

- experiences equality of opportunity
- feels a full and respected member of the school community
- has high expectations of themselves, their peers, staff, and others with regard to fair treatment
- develops an understanding of race, ethnicity and multiculturalism alongside an appreciation of their importance in Britain today
- develops an understanding and appreciation of disability and the contribution of disabled people in the community and UK
- develops an awareness of conscious and unwitting racism alongside the skills and confidence to challenge instances of racist behaviour, language and attitudes
- develops an awareness that disability can be both seen or unseen and that people with learning and other disabilities (eg autism, Aspergers syndrome) have the same rights to reasonable and appropriate adjustments as those with more obvious needs.

Principle 2: We recognise and respect difference.

St Giles Primary School is set in a predominantly White British village community; it is surrounded by villages with similar population characteristics. It is less than an hour's drive to London and Brighton, both cities/towns with that have much great cultural and ethnic diversity.

With this in mind it is vital we teach our children the importance of tolerance, respect and an understanding of diversity.

Treating people equally does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but must nevertheless take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face, in relation to:

- disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made
- ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised
- gender, so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, and women and men, are recognised
- religion, belief or faith background
- sexual identity
- economic or social disadvantage.

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging.

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents
- mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, and women and men, and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment.

Principle 4: We observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

We ensure that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status
- whatever their gender and sexual identity, and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity.

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:

- disabled and non-disabled people
- people of different ethnic, cultural, social and religious backgrounds
- girls and boys, women and men.

Principle 6: We aim to consult and involve widely

We endeavour to engage with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones.

We aim to consult and involve:

- disabled people as well as non-disabled
- people from a range of ethnic, cultural, social and religious backgrounds
- both women and men, and girls and boys.
- people in heterosexual and same sex relationships.

Principle 7: Society as a whole should benefit

We intend that our policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion, and greater participation in public life of:

- disabled people as well as non-disabled
- people of a wide range of ethnic, cultural, social and religious backgrounds
- both women and men, girls and boys
- people in heterosexual and same sex relationships

Principle 8: We base our practices on sound evidence

We maintain and publish quantitative and qualitative information showing our compliance with the public sector equality duty (PSED) set out in clause 149 of the Equality Act 2010.

Principle 9: Objectives

We formulate and publish specific and measurable objectives, based on the evidence we have collected and published (principle 8) and the engagement in which we have been involved (principle 7). See Appendix 1.

The objectives which we identify take into account national and local priorities and issues, as appropriate.

We keep our equality objectives under review and report annually on progress towards achieving them.
